GHANA 4 SAFETY WORKSHOP

Forty five nurses from all across Ghana attended the two day CNF workshop in Accra Ghana 26-27 April 2010. Participants committed to replicating the workshop in their workplaces to improve patient and nurse safety.

Both the Sierra Leone and Ghana CNF workshops were funded by the Commonwealth Foundation.

Participants at the workshop

WHO Global Initiative for Emergency and Essential Surgical Care (EESC)

The World Health Organization has developed a toolkit to provide guidance on developing policy, training curricula, essential equipment, teaching and best practices on trauma, anaesthesia, HIV prevention, pregnancy complications and in disaster situations. The toolkit is available from <http://www.who.int/surgery>. The toolkit takes a primary health care approach in strengthening health systems to reducing death and disability in injury, pregnancy related complications, congenital anomalies and infection.

NEW SYMBOL FOR NURSING EXCELLENCE

To celebrate International Nurses Day, the Bahamas Nursing Services Advisor, Mrs Willamae Hamilton Stuart and the Bahamas Principal Nursing Officer, Sandilands Rehabilitation Centre, Mrs Thelma McKenzie, challenged nurses in the Bahamas to wear a paper clip on the lapel of their uniforms to make a statement about nursing solidarity for excellence in nursing. The Bahamas nurse leaders suggest that while the cost of one humble paper clip is negligible, the value of the use of paper clips is indescribable and immeasurable. Likewise is the value of nursing to health care service delivery. The simple paper clip, available to nurses all over the world, is an item not given any great value or any value at all, however it is a valuable symbol for nurses who every day in health care facilities all over the world achieve, with dedication and commitment, the impossible and the immeasurable.
