MATERNAL DEATH REVIEW PRACTICES AND PROCEDURES

A research team based at Robert Gordon University, Aberdeen, Scotland is carrying out a research project under the auspices of the World Health Organisation. The object is to identify best practice regarding maternal death surveillance and response, and maternal death reviews (MDSR/MDR) and to provide clear guidance on how MDSR/MDR policy and legislation may be implemented. An anonymous online survey is being conducted to assess the current level of awareness of MDSR/MDR and to determine contemporary practices. The findings will be written up in a report which will be published in due course. Readers of the e-News, particularly nurse and midwife readers are strongly encouraged to participate in the research by completing the survey at the link below.

GLOBAL HANDWASHING DAY October 15

October 15 is Global Handwashing Day. Below is an innovative idea which not only promotes hand hygiene but saves water. The tippy-tap is a hands free way to wash hands in places with difficult access to running water. It can be made from simple salvaged materials and is operated by a foot lever. It uses very little water for each hand wash: only 40 ml of water compared to 500 ml using a mug.
